

Summer School in Medellín, Colombia and Basel, Switzerland (June/July 2026)

Entrepreneurship in a cross-cultural context

The summer school is a two-week programme open to Swiss and Colombian students from all faculties as well as university employees. During two exciting and challenging weeks, participants take a deep dive into the world of entrepreneurship by developing projects and business ideas from all fields of study, attending courses, visiting different organisations, discovering local culture and expand relevant networks with people from Colombia and Switzerland. The course combines profit, non-profit and sustainable projects at the same time.

Participants

All Students and faculty members of the participating universities

Goals

The summer school programme is open for bachelor and master students as well as employees from the organising universities. Its content is designed for students from all fields and each faculty of the participating universities.

The summer school programme focuses on four major aspects

- 1) Fostering the interaction between the students from both countries across faculty boundaries and thereby strengthening the international as well as the interdisciplinary exchange between students and employees.
- 2) Students learn how to use innovative techniques to find creative ideas and new solutions to today's challenges.
- 3) Students get to know relevant tools for the successful development of their projects / business idea.
- 4) Target-oriented working and cooperating in international and interdisciplinary groups.

Academic Programme

Our summer school concentrates on entrepreneurial skills and spirit. The courses are academically challenging with a strong practical focus. Lecturers are experts in their fields and experienced practitioners, interaction between students and lecturers will be fostered.

Participants will work in mixed groups on their own projects in various fields.

Relevant content in the course:

- creating a business idea

- developing and evaluating business models
- strategic planning
- market analysis and market entry
- finance and human resources
- stakeholder dialogue
- intercultural management
- convincing pitching and persuasive communication

The programme also includes visits of companies (e.g. start-ups, social start-ups, SME's) or organisations (e.g. business hubs) in both countries.

Cultural and social programme

Attractive cultural and social events will make the participants' stay an unforgettable experience and contribute to intercultural competence. The programme features excursions to cultural and historical sites in each country.

Grading / Credits / Workload

The summer school is accredited with 5 ECTS (please check with your dean of studies if and how this module will be accepted at your specific degree programme!).

The assessment consists of a group work and presentation during the summer school, which will be graded from 1-6.
